

I urge you not to change the current limits on ownership of multiple media outlets. Competition and multiple sources of information are essential to our democracy. Abandoning the existing limits would reduce the information our citizens receive and undermine the democratic process. Do not make this your legacy to your country.